GRAIN BILL NEEDED

Trade as Now Carried on Not Detrimental.

That Is Claim Which Is Now Made.

CURTIS CURBS KAW.

William Allen White and the National Institute Arts.

Many Matters of Much Interest to Kansans.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—The federal grain inspection bill is killed for this session. This is the general impression about the capitol of those who have been following developments regarding this bill closely. Kansas is particularly interested in this proposed legislation.

Not long ago the senate committee on agriculture made a favorable report on the bill. Senator Dolliver presented the report. But since the report was made on the measure, which was introduced in the senate by Mr. McCumber of North Dakota, one of the great wheat states, powerful influences have been at work to halt its progress.

Since the bill was reported by the committee, the National Grain Dealers' association submitted a memorial to congress, asking for a commission to investigate the grain trade. It is alleged by this association that if congress will investigate the grain business it will find the charges made by Senator Dolliver in his report are not warranted, and that the trade is now carried on in a manner that is not detrimental to producers and consumers.

Senator McCumber is determined to press the grain inspection bill, and it is likely federal grain inspection will be a live subject in the next long session. The department of agriculture is backing the proposed legislation.

An interesting feature of the reporting of this bill from the committee is the relation between Senator McCumber, who is chairman of the committee on agriculture, and Senator McCumber. The two senators are not political friends. Senator McCumber, though anxious to get his bill out, has been unable to do so. It is said this was due in no small measure to the influence of Mr. Henshaw, first as a member of the committee on agriculture, later as its chairman. But Senator Henshaw has been away from Washington since session opening to sickness, and Senator McCumber has taken the opportunity to get his bill out. This is the way the gossip runs about the capitol corridors.

A resolution, introduced by Senator Curtis, has passed the senate authorizing the establishment of harbor lines in the Kansas river at Kansas City, Kan. The measure authorizes the secretary of war to fix and establish pierhead and bulkhead lines, either or both, in the Kansas river beyond which no piers, wharves or other works shall be extended or deposits made, except under such regulations as shall be prescribed from time to time by the secretary of war.

The president has nominated the following Kansans for appointment as postmasters: Frank W. Elliott, Edna; William A. Hillhouse, Glasco; Esther C. Collins, Argonia; Etta M. Townsend, Englewood; Benson L. Mickel, Edgemoor; and appointments. The offices of Englewood, Soldier and Argonia were elevated to the presidential class on the first of the year. The postmaster general has appointed George Y. McElwee, postmaster at Louisville, Miami county, to succeed S. R. Estle, resigned.

Kansas postmasters commissioned: Orlando A. Cheney, Fort Scott; S. McKelvey, Gas; Lewis Pickrell, Minneapolis; Charles A. Lovgren, Winkler.

Senator Curtis has passed a bill in the senate authorizing the Edgewater Connecting Railway company to construct, maintain and operate a railroad bridge across the Kansas river at or near Kansas City, Kan. The measure is now under consideration of the house.

Bills granting increased pensions to Lucius Fuller and William T. Collins, of Kansas, have passed the senate. Both soldiers' heroes, they are paid $24 per month in lieu of the amount they are now receiving. Mr. Fuller served in the Eighth Kansas regiment volunteer infantry, while Mr. Collins was in the Fourteenth Kansas cavalry.

Senator Curtis presented to the senate a petition of the Farmers' Institute of Olive, Kan., praying for the reduction of the duty on all articles used by the farmers of the country. He also presented a petition of the Grain Dealers' National association of the United States for the appointment of a commission to investigate the grain trade of the country in respect to the first handling at terminal markets; another petition was presented from the Commercial club of Topeka, remonstrating against the passage of a rural parcels post.

Amos Mardis of Sylvia, Kan., says that the basis on which bank deposits should be guaranteed is a great question. A state or government guarantee would not be satisfactory, and certainly the government should not undertake such a thing, as it would in effect bankrupt the nation. A postal savings bank would ruin our present banking system. There should be some sort of a guarantee, however, and money is the lifeblood of trade, and without money we would sink to barbarism. His plan would be to have the government issue a few hundred million of 2 per cent bonds to deposit in designated banks to be handled by the bank officials instead of by the postmasters. A man wanting money could pledge his securities for 2 per cent bonds, which would be useful as money, and give the banker a profit between the 2 per cent that he had to pay the government and the rate he charged the borrower.

Senator Charles Curtis has introduced a bill directing the secretary of the treasury to pay to W. H. De Long, of Kansas, the sum of $2,000 for injuries received without any fault of his, while serving as a railway postal clerk during 1888.

Mr. Curtis also presented a bill granting increased pensions to John Blair, John Scott, and James W. Wilcoxson.

A bill has passed the house allowing John D. Baldwin of Junction City, Kan., the sum of $300, for a horse killed by a fragment of a shell fired from a gun belonging to the battery O, Seventh artillery, while at target practice on the military reservation of Fort Riley on December 6, 1900. The measure will pass the senate within a few days.

Carrie Nation, the saloon smasher from Kansas, won a little temporary martyrdom the other day at New castle-on-Tyne, a seaport of the north in England. She made a tour of the city, visiting bars and denouncing the drink traffic. She was followed by a bolstering crowd, which grew ever larger until it stopped traffic on the streets. Then the police led Mrs. Nation to the police station, where they formally took her name and address, with the view of prosecuting her for causing an obstruction. Other police meanwhile scattered the crowd.

Carrie goes on the theory that to be arrested in any city is the best advertising she could get. She seldom falls in her purpose.

The Kansas delegation will hold a meeting next Saturday night for the purpose of getting together on a number of bills of importance. The consideration of various candidates, and an agreement as to what it will urge in the way of tariff revision for the state.

George A. Ward of Atchison, a clerk in the law department of the Indian office, has been appointed a member of the Indian board of the Indians of Montana. This position was secured through the efforts of Senator Curtis.

Senator Long has submitted an amendment in the senate proposing to appropriate the sum of $200,000 for the limit of the appropriation to the public building at Kansas City, Kan.

Senator Curtis has introduced a bill authorizing and directing the secretary of war to correct the military record of Cumberland Smith, late of the United States army, who was a Virginia volunteer, and grant him an honorable discharge. The beneficiary of the measure is now a resident of Kansas.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts has introduced a bill in the senate incorporating the National Institute of Arts and Letters. William Allen White, of Emporia, Kan., is one of the incorporators named in the bill.

The members of the Kansas delegation in congress will give a farewell dinner to Senator and Mr. Chester Long on January 28—Kansas Day—at the Hotel Willard. Mrs. Long and daughters of the delegation will be present.

After eight years, John G. Baldwin of Junction City, Kan., probably will receive from the government for a horse struck by a fragment of a shell fired from a gun belonging to the battery O, Seventh artillery, at Fort Riley. The house committee on claims has reported favorably on a bill appropriating the money to indemnify Baldwin.

President Roosevelt has sent to the senate the following nominations for appointment as postmasters at Spearville, and Clarence P. Dutton at McCracken. Both of these offices became elevated to the presidential class on the first of the year.

Guy A. Swallow was also nominated for the postoffice at Fort Leavenworth, to succeed Laura Goodfellow, who was removed for violation of the postal laws and regulations.

The following Kansas postmaster appointments have been confirmed: James W. Crawford at Little River; C. L. Davis at Morrill; Bert Fletcher at Claflin; James Hall, Jr., at Miltonvale.

It may be a matter of interest to Kansans to know that William Higgins, former secretary of the state of Kansas, has been nominated for the appointment of postmaster at Edgemoor, Okla. But he hasn't got the appointment yet, and will not get it soon, as charges have been filed against him by some of his political enemies. A committee is said to be on the way to Washington to appear before the senate committee in opposition to his appointment.

W. C. Robinson of Winfield, Kan., is still a candidate for the appointment of comptroller of the currency. Just what chances he may have in landing this much desired plum is not known, but it is known that he has many competitors for the job. The Kansas delegation has presented his name to the senate several times during the past four years, and his name will be presented to the president-elect as soon as he goes into the White House.

BY THOUSANDS.

Jack Rabbits Are Being Killed Off in Ford County.

Dodge City, Jan. 26.—During December and up to January 20th, 14,332 rabbit scalps were delivered to the county clerk. A bounty of two cents is being paid per scalp. The fellows who have been killing them say they are as plentiful as ever.

Peter Hineman was at the court house today. He had killed 375 of this number himself, and two of his neighbors had killed the rest. He went out Wednesday of last week and shot 33. Friday in practically the same place he killed 11 and found that his ammunition was exhausted. Mr. Hineman is fattening a pen of hogs on jack rabbits, and says that they are fine hog feed. Many are using them for chicken feed, and they can be sold in a small way for that, but what is needed is a large market that will take care of as many as can be killed.

Mr. Hineman has killed about 700 jack rabbits this winter and will get the number to over a thousand before spring, he thinks. Even at the fast rate they have been killed off this winter, there is no hope of getting rid of the rabbits. It would be doing little to hold the rabbit population at where it is. To actually thin them out there would need to be about 25,000 a month killed, during the winter months.

He struck on the track and was very badly injured, in fact will be a cripple for life.

CORN STALK PAPER.

The Agricultural Bill Carries $10,000 for Experiments.

Washington, Jan. 26.—In the agricultural department appropriation bill reported to the house there is an increase of $1,208,820 over the amount given the department for its work during the present year although the amount reported $12,880,926, is less by $1,739,700 than was expected by the department.

The largest increase in the appropriation is that of about $208,000 for the bureau of plant industry, the increase being due chiefly to the need for expedited work on reclamation projects and to extend the cotton boll weevil experiment work in the southern states. As last year, $10,000 was appropriated again this year for experiment on new sorts of paper manufacture. Part of this sum will be expended in experiments of a commercial sort in making paper from corn stalks, the possibility of which was discovered as a result of this year's experiments. The total appropriation for the bureau is $1,820,736.

In some instances plants are being worked overtime.

More than five thousand men are now employed in the automobile factories here.

TRAINING TABLE.

Looks Like Lawrence Could Keep the Institution.

Not to Abolish It if It Can Be Avoided.

NEBRASKA WILL AID.

Requires a Two-Thirds Vote to Dispose of Matter.

Representatives of Schools Are at Des Moines Now.

Lawrence, Kan., Jan. 26.—It is possible that after all the football training table will not have to be abolished from the university here next year. At a vigorous meeting of the K. U. athletic board the action of the Missouri valley conference a short time ago, tending to abolish the training table in all the schools of the conference, was strongly protested, which will call for another vote on the matter at the meeting of the delegates from the schools at Des Moines, Ia., which began Monday.

Nebraska is standing in with Kansas for the training table, and will assist in making the fight. It seems that Washington, Drake and Iowa have not been able to maintain training tables and to keep on the level with the other schools are attempting to force them to abolish it also. Missouri had a training table the past year and if her delegates can be influenced to vote against the prohibition of the table the schools that wish it can have it as before. It takes a two-thirds vote to abolish it, so that only three votes are necessary to allow the schools to do as they please individually.

Manager W. C. Lansdon and Prof. C. L. McClung left for Des Moines yesterday to represent Kansas at the meeting of the conference. The arranging of a baseball league between the schools will also come up before this meeting.

Two Mile Banked Course Planned for Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, Jan. 26.—Ambitious plans for a big automobile racing track of steel and concrete, with room for an audience of 20,000 spectators, have been announced by the Estates and Mortgage company, chartered at Trenton, which has purchased the big Cheltenham Heights track along the Meadow boulevard.

Philadelphia and New York automobile dealers are associated with the location of the track in the present year. It involves the erection of a banked track with a two and one-half mile circuit, a mammoth garage and exhibitors' building and a luxurious club house. Over $1,000,000 will be spent in the project, according to the promoters.

St. Louis, Jan. 26.—Manager Joe Cantillon of the Washington Nationals is being asked what chance President Hedges of the Browns had of getting the Nationals to burn the Nationals' outspaw. "Hedges made me one offer for Burns," replied Cantillon, "but it didn't suit me. I was in on this. Hedges had a good chance of grabbing the pitcher if he came to other terms, as Cantillon is on the market."

Cincinnati, Jan. 26.—Mendez, the "Black Diamond" of the Cuban Stars, who makes a trip to the United States every summer, has pitched the last five games, or forty-three innings, without allowing a run to be made off him. He is the strong key West team, with Hagerman, drafted by the Chicago Nationals, in the box against him.

Walsh to Coach Yale Nine.
